intro

C F Am
Remember, in the fall, maples filled valleys with fire

Remember crimson blossoms, in the spring, lay like glitter on the road

F G C
Remember the sweet scent - of boiling kettles

Remember maple sugar, - remember snow

Remember taking walks along beaches on the Cape, and Islands
Remember summer mornings, breezes cool and pleasant on the brow
When winter winds return, whipping rain across the window
Remember how it was, not so very long ago

F C
Walk memories, (of) paths you laid

G C
Each fork, every crossing, - leads a different way

F Em
Wonder, which choices left us where we are today.

D7 G7
Wonder what we could have done.

break with 2 lines of verse chords

Now I gaze across the harbor, gauge clouds on the horizon
Past drown'ed towers of Boston, bridges, islands in the bay Check plywood on the windows, walk the levees of the Charles;
and remember how it was, but face the way it is today.

F C
Walk memories, paths you laid

G C
Each fork, every crossing, - leads a different way

F Em
Wonder, which choices left us where we are today.

D7 G7
Wonder what we could have done.

F C
Did we take the easy road, well paved, with marks and lines?

G C
Listen to voices chanting to ignore the signs?

F Em
See the coming storm, but think it past our time?

D7 G7
And pray, evidence was wrong?

outro

E7/G# Am7
But now I watch the water, feed the fire, waiting for the sun,
D7/F# G C
and wonder was there something I could have done?
