

I Ain't Scared of Nothing

Dan Tappan - August 2019

C G
14 billion years ago the universe was just a spark
Am Bm
Sometime far ahead it will fade into entropic dark
C Bm
But all of past and future time is hidden from my view
Em Am D
And all I know for certain is this moment here with you

G Bm
I ain't scared of nothing. There's nothing there to fear.
C D
Endless sleep in dreamless dark is not a case for tears
C Bm
No, what I fear is knowing as light begins to fade
Am D D7 G
That I didn't do my part to leave this world a better place

When the curtain falls to close my hour on this stage
I see no point to fantasy or Dylan Thomas' rage (alt: drama, fantasy or rage)
Of all the past that came before no memory remains
And simple logic tells me that the future is the same

repeat chorus

A thousand generations left us all that we possess
A thousand more to follow, we owe to them no less a dragons hoard of treasure, can't help me when I'm gone
I'd rather use a Golden Rule than a golden throne

G Bm
So I ain't scared of nothing, but the thought that gives me pause
C D
Is wasting my one chance to leave a better world, because
C Bm
All of past and future time is hidden from my view
Am D D7 Em
And all I know for certain is this moment here with you
Am D D7 G
