

Winter Dreams

Winter dreams, fade to gray
Early morning sunshine, another winter's day
Feel the warmth drift away
Memories that melt like winter dreams

There's times I imagine, it's still an endless summer
Thunderstorms and lightning bugs the same, as long as we're together
Each day brings a different joy, with no thoughts of November
wake up to remember,.. it was just a winter dream

Winter dreams, feel so true
Then I wake to face another winter morning without you
Do the chores, muddle through
Look forward to a night of winter dreams

There's times I imagine it's still an endless summer
Bumble bees and butterflies, the same so long as we're together
Every day a sweet bouquet of memories to treasure
Wake up to remember,.. it was just a winter dream

Winter dreams, blowing snow
Drifts across the meadow, hiding what's below
To emerge, from long ago
As images that haunt my winter dreams
Memories that melt like winter dreams
